Monroe County District Attorney Sandra Doorley Announces Arthur Moore
Pleads Guilty to Sexually Abusing, Tattooing Rochester Boy

District Attorney Sandra Doorley announced this morning, February 16, 2012, that Arthur Moore pled guilty to Attempted Sexual Abuse in the First Degree and Unlawfully Dealing with a Child, in Monroe County Court, before Hon. Thomas Moran.

Moore, 42, and a former tattoo artist, fled Rochester after the victim's mother found the tattoo on her son's arm in March 2010. Moore was arrested in February 2011.

Judge Moran has promised Mr. Moore a sentence of three years in state prison with ten years post release supervision. There will be an order of protection for the victim. Mr. Moore has also waived his right to appeal and must register as a sex offender when released from prison. Sentencing is set for March 12, 2012.

Assistant District Attorney Kyle Rossi handled this case and says the victim's family requested the plea and is pleased with the promised sentence. Prosecutor Rossi is available for comment and can be reached at (585) 753-4680 or krossi@monroecounty.gov.
